

Job Posting

Submission ID: 1653828 - x58b9c90ebfc727.80378173

The message has been sent from 45.59.192.3 (United States) at 2017-03-03 13:50:38

Position	Life Support Systems Technician
Facility	Aquarium of the Pacific
Location	Long Beach, CA
Job Summary	Full time, eligible for benefits The Life Support Systems Technician is responsible for performing daily inspections of all life support systems and components, and maintaining all equipment in working order. The individual will handle such tasks as filter back washes, system lineup changes, barge water treatment, troubleshoot any faulty systems, and more. This position works a 4-day workweek, and all life support technicians rotate shifts to provide 24-hour coverage, 365 days of the year.
Essential Functions	Performing daily rounds inspections on all life support systems Performing preventive and emergency maintenance for all the life support systems and associated equipment as needed Isolating, troubleshooting and coordinating the repair of faulty life support systems including pumps, ozone generation systems, aquarium system filtration, and LSS building controls equipment Providing support as needed with the construction and fabrication of new life support systems equipment and exhibits Communicating successfully with and assisting members of the department and other departments within the aquarium as needed
Other Duties and Responsibilities
Knowledge, Skills and Abilities	Aquatic animal life support experience in an aquarium highly desirable Pipefitting and fabrication skills are highly desirable Experience with centrifugal pump equipment fractional to 30 HP, sand filters, foam fractionators, UV sterilizers as well as heat exchangers is desirable Understanding of basic water chemistry and tools used to measure water quality required Must be highly computer literate with a strong understanding of MS windows Understanding of automation and building control systems desirable Must be a team-oriented individual with excellent oral and written communication skills Knowledge of OSHA and Cal OSHA safety requirements is desirable
Education & Experienced Required	Qualifications:

	Bachelor's degree in Engineering or the completion of a formal training program a plus (or equivalent experience) Previous aquatic animal life support experience in a private or public aquarium is highly desirable. Must have work experience in a related technical field, such as wastewater treatment or marine engineering. Must be able to work flexible hours (4-day workweek, including nights, weekends, and holidays in some rotations).
Licenses and Certifications Required
Physical Requirements	Physical Demands
	Ability to sit, stand and walk for long periods of time Ability to balance, bend, squat, climb, kneel, crawl, twist Ability to lift and carry up to 0-50lbs Ability to pull and push up to 0-100lbs Ability to work at a variety of heights Full functional range of motion in all major body joints from reaching, twisting, bending, simple and power gripping, fine and gross motor skills
Working Conditions	Work Environment
	Exposure to various in temperature, humidity or wetness Exposure to injury from animal Wet, dirty, uneven surfaces and walkways Exposure to confined spaces Exposure to work in an industrial environment, including areas with low headroom, difficult access Ability to work around and use hazardous chemicals with proper PPE Use of special auditory, visual, and personal protective equipment Exposure to working with bio-hazards Aquarium habitats and open ocean environments
Salary
Respond To	Interested & Qualified?
	If you meet the requirements of this position, visit the link below. You will be directed to our web application process, the successful completion of which is required by all applicants. There are THREE simple steps to this process, which is administered by Wonderlic, Inc.:

You will complete a brief web application;

You will attach or build your resume;

You will complete the PCI aptitude assessment.

Upon completion of all THREE steps, your submission will be forwarded to our hiring team for consideration.

If you are among the most qualified applicants, we will contact you within two to three weeks. If you do not hear from us within that time, feel free to reapply in the future as other opportunities arise. Thank you so much for your interest in the Aquarium of the Pacific!

http://www.aquariumofpacific.org/employment/info/life_support_systems_technician

The Aquarium of the Pacific is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Closing date	03/31/2017
--------------	------------

Entry ID

135